

Master of Liberal Arts (LIBA)

Program Path:

IDS Type: Departmentally Restricted IDS

Program Type: Foundational IDS Program

Description: The Liberal Arts Master's Program is one of the most exciting places to be at California State University, Sacramento. Possibly the most innovative program on campus, its purpose is to give people who love to learn an opportunity to explore the liberal arts in their own way and at their own pace. Flexibility is the most important principle of our program. You will receive credit for any approved graduate course within the area of liberal arts that fires your interest. The Liberal Arts Master's Program offers a wide variety of fascinating courses, expert faculty and impressive library resources. You will also benefit from the friendship and collaboration of other students. In short, the program offers everything you'll need for a truly stimulating and satisfying experience. (From website.)

Program Structure:

Admission Requirements: Application, Official Undergraduate Transcripts, Statement of Purpose (500 words), (3) Letters of Recommendation

Credit Hours: 30 credits

Required Coursework: 9 credits, Three Core courses (theme of “Culture and Expression”)

Individually Selected Coursework: 18 credits, Electives

Exit Courses & Work: 3 credits, Culminating Experience

Established Department(s) of focus: Liberal Arts departments such as: Art, English, German, History, Humanities, Music, Philosophy, Religious Studies, Spanish, and Theater & Dance. (This is not an exhaustive list.)

Program Statistics:

Faculty: No IDS specific faculty information available

Students: Resident students only

Program History: No information available

Contact Information:

Address: Liberal Arts Master's Program, 2011 Mendocino Hall, 6000 J Street, Sacramento, CA 95819-6083

Phone Numbers:

Email: jbrodd@csus.edu

Website: <http://www.csus.edu/liba/>