A Recommendation

1. Division: Academic Affairs.

2. Introduction: We are pleased to recommend the appointment of Kevin J. Corcoran as the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences and Professor of Psychology, with tenure. This recommendation is based on an extensive review of Dr. Corcoran's professional record, his accomplishments at Northern Kentucky University (NKU), and overwhelming support of Oakland University's Dean Screening Committee, which was composed of Scott Crabill, Interim Vice Provost for Undergraduate Education; Todd Shackelford, Professor of Psychology; Eddie Cheng, Distinguished Professor of Mathematics; Chris Clason, Professor of German; Rose Cooper, Associate Professor of Communication; Sandra Dykstra, Assistant Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences; Todd Estes, Associate Professor of History; Anne Hitt, Associate Professor of Biological Sciences; Tamara Jhashi, Acting Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences; Adriene Lim, Dean of University Libraries; Joe Shively, Associate Professor of Music; and Gopalan Srinivasan, Distinguished Professor of Physics.

Dr. Corcoran received a BA in Psychology from LaSalle College, a MA in Clinical Psychology from the University of Connecticut and received his PhD in Clinical Psychology from the University of Connecticut.

At NKU, Dr. Corcoran held the position of Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences and Professor of Psychological Science. As Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Dr. Corcoran provided leadership on the senior level. Dr. Corcoran was elected Dean of the largest College at Comprehensive State University where he was responsible for 13 academic departments, hired eight chairs during his tenure, two academic programs which reported directly to the College and five centers. Dr. Corcoran also managed a budget in excess of $27 million, approximately 300 full-time faculty, 275 part-time faculty and roughly 5000 majors. Dr. Corcoran served on the President's Cabinet, Academic Advising Council and Council of Deans.

Dr. Corcoran was involved with various University projects and committees such as the development and launch of the new academic department – World Languages and Literatures; Launched new MA in English; BA in German, BA in Statistics; Approval of new MA in Public History. Dr. Corcoran was involved with many campus and community service committees, such as, the NKU Internationalization Task Force, NKU Retention Planning Committee and the Strategic Enrollment Planning Leadership Team.

Major Initiatives and accomplishments during my tenure as Dean

- Developed and launched new academic department--World Languages and Literatures
- Launched new MA in English; BA in German, BA in Statistics; Approval of new MA in Public History

- Led initiative to revamp interdisciplinary program, both graduate and undergraduate (changed program name from Liberal Studies to Integrative Studies to reflect modification)—enrollment growth over 40% during my tenure
- Expanded offerings for adult learners; expanded course/program offerings online
- Supported development of articulation agreements with two-year institutions
- Created staff position in Instructional Design; initiated Faculty Learning Community resulting in increase in high quality online and web-enhanced offerings
- Created new College award (“Spark”) to recognize commitment, innovation, and creativity among faculty and staff
- Re-initiated College Board of Visitors
- Successfully completed external accreditation—including site visits (ABET: Engineering Technology; NASM: Music Department)
- Developed collaborative relationships with two universities in Mexico (University of Zacatecas; ITESO)

Campus and Community Service (Selected examples)

- NKU Internationalization Task Force
- NKU Retention Planning Committee (Strategically Aligning for Student Success)
- Community Engagement Planning Committee (Strategically Helping Align for Public Engagement)
- Presidential Advisory Committee on Efficiencies and Savings (PACES)

- Board Member, Bridges for a Just Community (Greater Cincinnati Chapter); Transition Core Leadership Team (chair); Strategic Planning Committee (chair)

2005-2006 American Council on Education Fellow, Northern Kentucky University (NKU)—James C.

Votruba, Mentor

As part of longest running national leadership development program, worked closely with President and Provost at NKU. Participated in wide range of activities with leadership team both on and off campus—including Executive Team participation.

Primary focus: Civic Engagement (active participant in University Committee designed to align resources to enhance public engagement) and strategic planning; visited approximately 20 2- and 4-year institutions in US, Mexico, and South Africa.

1999-2006 Department Head, Psychology, University of Cincinnati, McMicken College of Arts and Sciences

Chief Academic and Financial Officer of Academic department with 32 faculty (plus 6 cross-appointed faculty), and four support staff; more than 40 faculty with adjunct titles, in addition to approximately 20 part time adjunct instructors. Department also had cooperative agreements with multiple community agencies--providing funding and training for graduate students, and internship experiences for undergraduates. The department had over 500 undergraduate majors, and approximately 80 Ph.D. students (the largest or second largest in the College in each category).

Major Initiatives and accomplishments during my tenure as Department Head

- Initiated and assisted in the development of program to eliminate gender-related harassing behaviors
- Provided College leadership in the development of online courses
- Initiated job fair for undergraduates, involving employers and Psychology majors
- Completed successful accreditation (American Psychological Association) for Clinical Psychology Ph.D. Program (including successful self-studies and site visits)

- Leadership Cincinnati (Class XXVIII)
- Leadership Cincinnati Steering Committee (Diversity Subcommittee), Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce

1999 Director of Clinical Training, Department of Psychology, University of Cincinnati

Director of American Psychological Association-accredited program in clinical psychology. Served eight months before becoming Department Head. Worked with Department Head to oversee administration of Clinical Psychology Doctoral program; member of the department's Advisory Committee; managed collaborative process of revising program curriculum.

1992-1998 Coordinator, Psychological Services, Clinical Center, Southern Illinois University at Carbondale (SIUC)

Coordinator of counseling, assessment, and other psychological services for a campus-based community serving clinic—which provided training for students in Psychology, Education, Counseling, Rehabilitation, Social Work, Communication Disorders, and Physical Therapy Assistant programs. As a unit reporting directly to the Provost, our primary missions were training and research. There were over 120 students providing services in any given academic term within my service/training area. In a typical year, we served several thousand clients—typically, low income rural adults and children—who paid for their services on a sliding fee scale.

Major Initiatives and accomplishments during my tenure

- Initiated multi-disciplinary Family Therapy program
- Initiated provision of supervised emergency coverage
- Developed and initiated systematic assessment process
- Initiated and coordinated cooperative program with Carbondale Women's Center.

1991-1992 Interim Director of Clinical Training, Department of Psychology, SIUC

Served as one year sabbatical replacement. Worked in collaboration with Department Chair to oversee operation of clinical program—including scheduling courses, evaluating student progress, and assigning teaching assistants; coordinated communication with outside agencies. Coordinated outcome assessment processes in both 1992 and 1998 in anticipation of accreditation self-study and site visit by American Psychological Association.

1987-1988 Interim Director of Clinical Training and Director of Clinic, Department of Psychology, University of Idaho.

Served one year as a sabbatical replacement. Oversaw the operation of both the Master's program and the community clinic. Coordinated evaluation of graduate students and assignment of students to external placements and teaching assistantships within the department.

Offices held and service for professional associations:
