
1. The Committee reviewed its charge as outlined in the CAS Constitution.

2. The Committee deferred the request from the Department of History to add the following new courses:

   HST 368  The Crusades  (4)
   Considers the crusades in their historical and religious context, and the ways in which the crusading movement influenced cultural development across Europe and the East. Provides an understanding of what the crusades were, what they were not, and why they continue to fascinate the modern world.
   Prerequisite:  WRT 160 with a grade of 2.0 or equivalent.

   HST 369  The Middle Ages, 1100-1500 (4)
   Considers the period of the High and Late Middle Ages, roughly from the eleventh century through the fall of Constantinople in the mid-fifteenth. Students will be introduced to the main people and cultures, ideas and institutions of the Middle Ages, and the techniques used by medieval historians to interpret sources.
   Prerequisite: WRT 160 with a grade of 2.0 or equivalent.

3. The Committee deferred the request from the International Studies Program to create a Concentration in International Studies:

   Three required courses from ISP  (12 credits)
   IS 200 Global Systems  Essentially a geography (broadly defined to include human geography) course, one that would be similar to an “Introduction to International Studies” offered at other institutions
   IS 210 or 220 or 230 or 240 or 250 or 260 or 270  These are introductory, interdisciplinary area-focused courses. While the concentration is NOT area-focused, we believe one area-focused course will give students some grounding in one world region and perhaps allow them to cultivate an interest in this region as they design their course of study.
   IS 301 (Global Citizen) or IS 395  (Globalization) Interdisciplinary, capstone-like courses that also fulfill a Knowledge Applications General Education requirement

   Four courses within three tracks  (14-16 credits) Students take any four courses within a particular track; courses must come from at least 2 different departments

Co-Req Foreign Language: Any international studies program must have a foreign language component. Existing area-studies majors require 3 years; the International Relations major requires two years. Given, however, that this concentration is not designed to be area-specific and not wishing to overburden students, we propose a 1 year of any foreign language requirement, consistent with the existing area-studies minors we currently offer.

Study Abroad: We cannot require this, but we would like to encourage it, and would be very happy to count courses taken abroad, if appropriate in substance, in the above-mentioned tracks.

   Catalog Copy:
   The minor in LGBTQ studies combines historical, social science, interpersonal and institutional investigations of sexualities, sexual identities and gender identities in U.S. and global contexts.    Courses are sequenced to make completing the minor in a timely manner possible.
