With more than 20,000 students and a low student-to-faculty ratio, Oakland University offers diverse academic programs, including more than 130 baccalaureate programs and more than 120 graduate degree and certificate programs through the College of Arts and Sciences; the schools of Business Administration, Education and Human Services, Engineering and Computer Science, Health Sciences, and Nursing; and the Oakland University William Beaumont School of Medicine. Oakland University also offers a challenging and enriching Honors College. Kresge Library supports scholarly activities through its collections of books, journals, government documents, musical scores and recordings, as well as technology to access digital resources and global archives.